Annual Festival Celebrates Foster Families

Each year, more than 100 artists grace the streets of The Gateway to do what's been described as "performance art." Some are art students, some are housewives, some are engineers, some are professional artists in other mediums.

The Utah Foster Care Foundation's annual Chalk Art Festival reaches at least 20,000 people with the message that every child deserves a home. Each artist knows they are chalking for more than just fun. All proceeds benefit the 2600 Utah children in foster care and the amazing families who bring safety and love into their lives.

Artists and volunteers: Students in grades 6-12 are free!
Register online at www.chalkartfestival.org.

Foster Parent Ambassadors: We are looking for experienced foster parents to answer questions at our information booths on both days.
Contact mike.hamblin@utahfostercare.org or call 877-505-KIDS (5437)

Sponsorships: Consider dedicating a chalk art square to your favorite dad, individual or business! For details on sponsorships, contact deborah.lindner@utahfostercare.org

Fostering Healthy Children

By Chris Chytraus, R.N., BSN, CPM

Program Manager
Fostering Healthy Children Program

We often get questions from foster parents regarding medications that are prescribed for a child. There are specific licensing rules for foster parents regarding administration of medications. These rules include:

Foster and proctor parents should administer prescribed medications, according to the written directions of a licensed physician. When the child is prescribed a medication by a medical provider, it should be filled at the pharmacy within 24 hours and you should begin administering it as directed. Antibiotics should be obtained for the child immediately following the doctor's visit so they can be started immediately.

Medicine is only given to the child for whom it was prescribed. You should

Fostering Faster Follow-up

NEVER use another child's medication for any child. It is important that the prescription bottle contain the appropriate number of pills at all times according to the prescribed use. If you use another child's medication, the original child may run out of medications prior to the refill date.

Medications can not be discontinued without the approval of the licensed physician. If the child experiences side effects they should be reported immediately to the licensed physician that prescribed the medication. NEVER stop a medication because you think the child does not need it. You must always consult with the child's primary care provider that ordered the medication. The Fostering Healthy Children program must receive a Health Visit Report signed by the doctor for all medication changes.

Utah Foster/Adoptive Families Association (UFAFA) Corner

What is UFAFA?

The Utah Foster/Adoptive Families Association (UFAFA) has been around for many years. It existed years before the Utah Foster Care Foundation was created by the Utah legislature. At the time, it was called the Utah Foster Care Association and it worked with DCFS in helping to recruit, train, retain, support and advocate for foster parents. The Foundation has now taken on the roles of recruiting, retention and training. UFAFA now fills the roles of advocacy and support.

So What Does UFAFA Mean to You?

All licensed foster families and/or families who have adopted a child from state custody are automatically members of UFAFA. We can and will answer questions you may have about fostering. Sometimes that answer may be directing you to a resource than can help you. We can and will provide support for you during an allegation. We can and will advocate for foster/adoptive families rights at the Legislature.

How do you get in touch with UFAFA?

The best and easiest way is to become a member of our website. www.myufafa.com All of our contact info is available there. We are also on Facebook – become a fan! You can follow us on Twitter as well (myUFAFA). We are currently trying to create an email list of our members. Please email your contact info including name, address, phone, region, email address and month licensed to ufafa1@gmail.com. We would really appreciate it! We promise to only use the info for foster/adoptive family business!

National Foster Care Month Is Coming!

All children — including the 463,000 American children and youth in foster care — deserve a safe, happy life. As Utah foster parents know, young people in foster care especially need nurturing adults on their side because their own families are in crisis and unable to care for them.

The National Foster Care Month web site at www.nationalfostercaremonth.org says it best: "Each May, we salute the compassionate people who make a difference by serving as foster parents, relative caregivers, mentors, advocates, social workers, and volunteers. Thanks to these unsung heroes, many formerly abused or neglected children and teens will safely reunite with their parents, be cared for by relatives, or be adopted by loving families."

Thank you for opening your hearts and homes to children in need. You are truly "changing a lifetime," one child at a time. Your local Cluster and the Utah Foster Care Foundation will be celebrating National Foster Care Month with various activities. Here is a summary of some of the things happening in your area:

Helping Children with Loss and Grief

By Madeline Krebs, LCSW

Reprinted from Fostering Families Today, July/August 2009

Loss in foster care is unique from other losses, as it is less socially recognized, without closure, and has few, if any, rituals to express the multitude of losses that kids in foster care experience. When moved, the kids lose contact with siblings, birthparents, their community, pets, favorite teachers, their toys, clothes and the daily routine they know. And for many children, all of those losses can happen in a single day or week.

Do we understand what overwhelming loss looks like? Their loss may be temporary, or maybe not. As the children wonder, "Will my mom get it together and get me back? When? Will she visit me?" Such uncertainty and lack of resolution can leave a child feeling immobilized. They don't know if the loss is final or temporary. Children spend a great deal of emotional energy and time trying to predict or anticipate what will happen next in their lives. Anyone who has been threatened with the news of possible layoffs can appreciate what uncertainty can do to one's emotional life.

Kids in care want and need information, given in age-appropriate language, with support from adults who can tell them their story, give them their information as well as offer emotional support by encouraging them to share their questions, thoughts and feelings. After all, if it is unmentionable, it is unmanageable. Kids want and need to remember, to commemorate the people, places and things that are no longer part of the daily lives.

Just as adults talk about deceased or geographically distant family or friends, so do children need to acknowledge those connections. The stories, pictures and life-book history of their lives are all part of acknowledging those who are not physically present but are psychologically present. Foster parents are the front line memory keepers for kids in care; who else listens to the often mentioned references about birth parents, siblings, life before foster care?

Did You Know?

Utah Foster Care Foundation
is a statewide organization.

This means that you are able to take your In-service
training classes in a variety
of different cities.

So, if you miss a required
class that is only offered every three months in your area, you can take the same class in Salt Lake City
or even St. George.

That also means you can take a mini vacation and
still take classes.

Support Workers who Help Children

By Deb Hofhines

Utah Foster

Some jobs are difficult and gut wrenching. The hours are long, thankless
and stressful. The pay stinks, case loads are high
and at times dangerous.
Sounds like law enforcement? Instead,
think child welfare.

Imagine being a child
welfare worker in Utah
where budget cuts have
killed any hope for relief.
With bureaucracy and
red tape, it's hard to be a true social worker, but
that is what is expected.
Try doing this job while hearing all the ugly
things people say about
you and your agency,
things you cannot
defend or justify due to confidentiality. You're thinking "dream job,"
huh? Well, hundreds do
it throughout the state
every day.

We would like to say
thank you in honor of
March's Social Worker
Month. Thanks for showing up every day
and helping children and
families across the state.
